AVE VALE GOSHEN

DEDICATION

MR. LITTLEFIELD

MISS SCOTT

The Class of 1956 proudly dedicates its yearbook to Mr. Evan Littlefield and Miss Marion Scott:

Because of his ability to transmit his love for math to the students.

Because of his ability to maintain a cheerful atmosphere and a high academic standard in his classrooms.

Because of his encouragement and genuine interest in the trials and tribulation of the students.

Because of what his quiet observance, thoughtful judgment, and careful guidance have meant to us.

Because he was the foundation of the senior class in building our ambition, fulfilling our goals, and making us a class instilled with an intense pride to be graduating from Goshen Central School.

Because of her keen interest in both the personal and academic life of the students.

Because she was depended on so completely by students, faculty and administration.

Because of her efforts and success in maintaining an orderly, efficient office so cheerfully and dependably.

Because of her perseverance through the years in helping create and preserve the true spirit of Goshen Central School.

Because she was always "Our Girl Friday."

JUNIOR HIGH

Comprenez-vous?

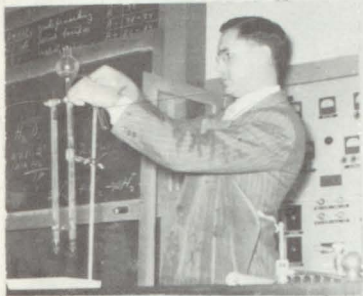

So how's college??

Hi, coach !

Up to trix again, aye?

Will the front row please move back.

Draw it pretty.

Mr. Disconnected-discourse himself.

Close the door; I've got a good joke.

Not nice for big boys to stick out their tongues.

Hey, Mr. B ! The band, not the football game.

What did he do wrong now?

Oh for the life of a teacher !

Wish I had a plaid hat !

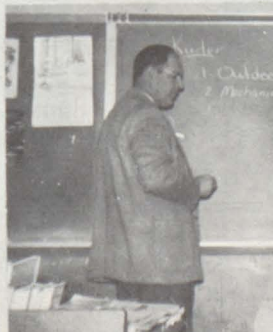

Eating again?

He's off on a tangent again.

Today's gum day.

These are the facts.

Hi ya, handsome.

Hi, doll !

Our athletes Sue and Marty are so often seen wrestling (that's sports??)

Adelaide, Charlie and Maggie we still say you never can tell about those quiet ones.

Barb, Cindy and Stan are all dressed up with no place to go.

Good looking Marty is often seen surrounded by girls; Helen is too... at the hall mirror.

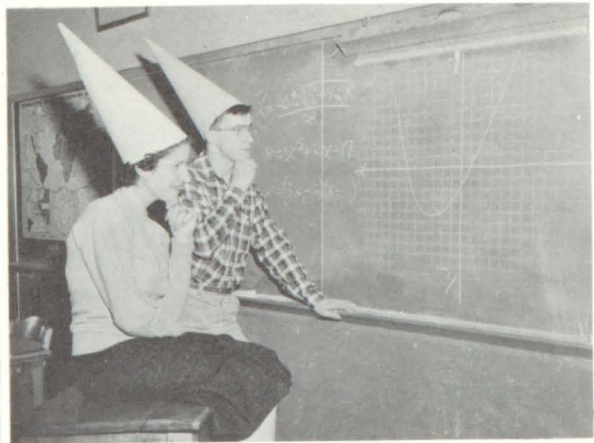

Bev, Anna and Marty... I wonder why they call them Hell Drivers?

Carole and Frank each won half this election therefore half-wits.

Jan, Rudy and Pete - They're on the way to success (Resting between rungs).

Jan and Pete - That's intellect? You could have fooled us.

Betty and Rudy have always been "Johnny on the spot" for the Senior Class.

ELECTIONS

This is the longest time Babs and Frank have been quiet (Took 30 seconds to snap the picture).

Dave and Barb... Hey, Ma! He's making eyes at me.

CLASS HISTORY

We are drawing back the curtains of time so that you may see the role that the Class of 1956 has played in Goshen Central School during the last four years.

Act I: The scene opens on September, 1952, on fifty-odd pea-green freshmen being overwhelmed by the wonders of higher math, foreign language, the complicated typewriter, and the magic of being treated as mature high school students. Trips to the Ford and I. B. M. plants added to their worldly knowledge.

Act II: In 1953 they began experiments in working as a class. Mr. Johnson provided the gavel which served to keep order and confiscate dues, which were invested in the Broadway plays they saw. Besides working as "microbe hunters" (observing paramecium and protozoa through the microscopes), baffling the mathematicians with their geometric solutions, they presented a very successful "Penguin Club Dance" at which the high school dance band made its debut.

Act III: In 1954 they really began to function as a class. In general, the work consisted of baseball, football and dance concessions, sponsoring "Babes in Toyland," and food sales. They also presented the plays "The Rough House" and "Minor Miracle" in Goshen as well as Middletown. The serious determination that the class applied in their work provided them with enough capital to put on a revolutionary prom for the seniors. "Rhapsody in Blue" set a new standard for later classes to remember and follow in the future.

Last Act: The senior year was a glorious year of class activities. The determined spirit was again applied in sponsoring food sales, dances, "Young Man's Fancy." The year was especially memorable because of the championships won in football and basketball. The seniors hoped to preserve this memory in their yearbook.

Final Curtain: Graduation is near. The seniors will don caps and gowns with regret and pride: regret that they are marking the end of four of the most wonderful years they will experience; pride because it is this high school they are leaving and because not only do they leave with memories but also they leave the school with memories of the senior class of 1956.

CLASS WILL

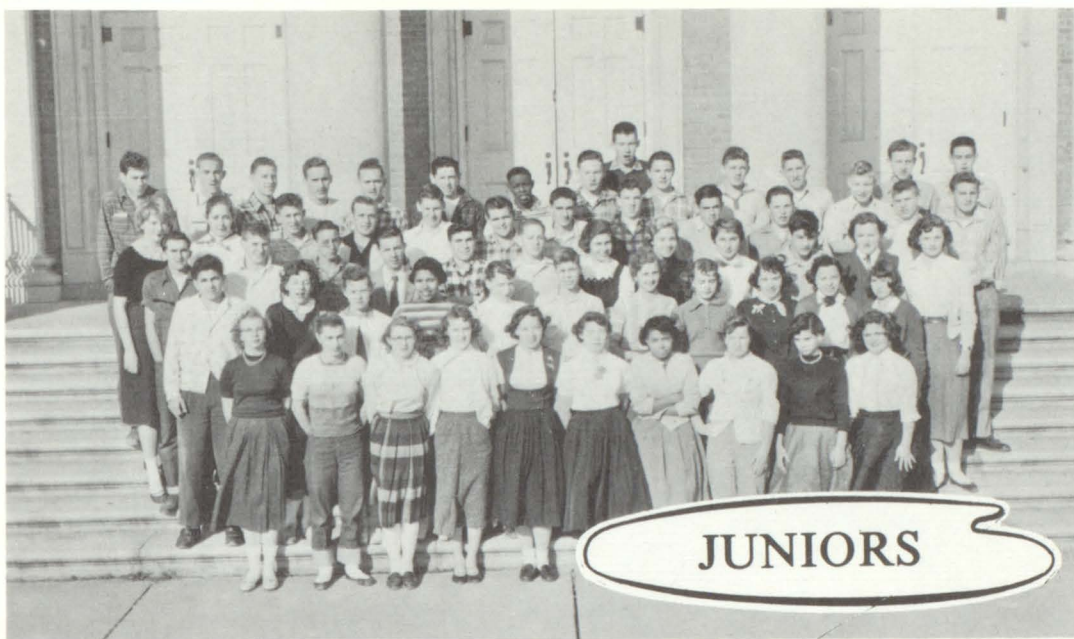

We the class of 1956 still sound in body and mind leave the following:

Bob Anderson leaves his left tackle position to Nat Perkins.

The yearbook editors and staff would like to thank Mr. Hogan for the help he has given us in making the new yearbook a success. Mr. Hogan had devoted much time and effort in guiding, advising and encouraging us in the creation of our book. We would like to express our sincere gratitude and return some encouragement by saying, "Have no fear, Mr. Hogan. Those new grey hairs make you look very distinguished!"

FAREWELL

It seems such a short time ago that the doors of Goshen High School opened to the Class of '56, such a short time ago that we said "Hello" and were welcomed to come live and learn in our high school. Four years have passed, four wonderful years during which we have learned to live well with other people, to cooperate, to have a strong spirit. We have also learned to round out our education with not only classifiable knowledge but also the knowledge of how to live with other people in this wonderful world of ours.

Now we hope that you will remember us and find that we have set standards for later classes to follow. We are leaving the halls of G. C. S. in body but not in mind or spirit. The type is still damp on our diplomas and with nostalgia we feel the need to say "Hail and Farewell" and thanks for the many wonderful years in Goshen High School.
